Declaration of Authorship

I declare that I write this thesis independently and transparently according to the rules of good academic practice of the University of Vienna. I confirm, in particular, that I, according to the rules of my discipline,

- document any aids used in the section where the aids have been used and in the description of the thesis' methods
- cite intellectual property of other persons according to the disciplinary rules and referenced these in the bibliography,
- have the right to use copyrighted images and media in the thesis,
- document all (raw) data, protocols and analyses generated during preparation in a transparent way and accessible at any times,
- am transparent about any text and images generated by (AI) tools and their adjustments throughout the thesis preparation process,
- explicitly mention any contribution to the content by third parties (such as data processing, analysis, etc.) and I acknowledge these persons accordingly (e.g. in the acknowledgements),
- don't make use of any impermissible support regarding content (e.g. ghost writing) in addition to the approved supervision,
- mention any content overlaps with my contributions in courses (e.g. bachelor's paper, seminar paper).

I know the consequences of misconduct (§17 Statutes of the University of Vienna - Study Law, §73 and §89 Universities Act 2002, §2a University Quality Assurance Act). I also know that academic misconduct can have legal consequences under civil and/or criminal law in case of damages to a third party.

I comply with the rules of good scientific practice and take note of the legal basis.
